The First Congregational Church of Calais, Maine, founded in 1825, was the first church to organize in the area. Recognized as a National Historic Site, the church features one of the largest tracker organs in existence in the state of Maine. The organ, built by George Stevens, of Cambridge, Mass., c. 1870.

POST CARD

Place Stamp Here

This side for address

Published by Donald B. Phillips, Northeast Harbor, Me. 04662 USA